COUNTERFEITERS BEWARE.

A Michigan Concern Enjoyed.

[From the Rochester Morning Herald.]
The following injunction has been obtained by the Hop Bitters Company, of Rochester, N. Y., against Collatinus D. Warner, of Reading, Michigan, prohibiting him from manufacturing or selling "German Hop Bitters."

The President of the United States of America to Collatinus D. Warner, of Reading, Mich., his servants, workmen, subordinates and agents, and each and every one of them:
Whereas, it has been represented unto the Justices of our Circuit Court, the Hon. Stanley Matthews, and the Hon. Henry B. Brown, at Detroit, within and said District, sitting as a court of chancery, that you, Collatinus D. Warner, are manufacturing and selling a medicine named German Hop Bitters, in fraudulent imitation of the Hop Bitters made and sold by complainant; your said medicine being devised, calculated and intended to mislead the public into purchasing such counterfeit goods as the manufacture of the complainant.

We therefore, in consideration of the premises, do strictly enjoin you, the said Collatinus D. Warner and all every the persons before named, from using the words "Hop Bitters" on any fluids contained in bottles so as to induce the belief that such fluids are made by complainant; and further, from manufacturing, selling or offering for sale, any bottles or other fluids in the bottles and with labels, and in the general form in which you were manufacturing and selling the bitters, called by you German Hop Bitters, on the filling of the bottle; or in any other bottles, or with any other labels contrived or designed to represent or induce the belief that the bitters or fluids sold by you are the goods of the complainant, until the further order of the court.

Witness the Honorable Morris R. Watts, Chief Justice of the United States, at Detroit, this 15th day of July, A. D. 1885.
Walter S. Harsh, clerk.
[L. S.]

Present the delinquents!!
If you call for Hop Bitters the druggist hands out anything but "Hop Bitters" with a green cluster of Hops on white label, shun that druggist as you would a viper; and if he has taken your money for a bogus stuff, indict him for the fraud and sue him for damages for the swindle, and we will reward you liberally for the conviction.

See U. S. Court injunction against C. D. Warner, Reading, Mich., and all his salesmen, agents, druggists, and other imitators.

THE YACHT RACE.

The Contest Yesterday Failed to Come Under the Allotted Time and is Off.

The Fleety Vessels Fail to Find Wind To day and no Race Occurs.

Minister Keiley Tenders His Resignation and it Accepted by Mr. Bayard.

A FLAT FAILURE.
The Yachts to Make a Third Trial To-Day.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
New York, Sept. 12.—The yacht race yesterday proved another flat failure for lack of wind and delay in getting the yachts started.

The Puritan arrived at the outer mark at 5h., 37m. and 06s., the Genesta being then nearly two miles to leeward of it. Both yachts were towed back to the Horse Shoe, from which they were to start at about 10 o'clock this morning. The committee finding that it was impossible to sail the race in seven hours, took the Genesta in tow, while the Scandinavian was sent to bring the Puritan into port. The course must be sailed in seven hours or it is no race.

THE RACE TO-DAY.
SANDY HOOK, Sept. 12.—10 a. m.—The weather is cloudy and the wind from the west, blowing five miles per hour. The Puritan, in tow, and the Genesta, under sail, are now passing out to the starting point.

WAITING.
11:30 a. m.—Both yachts are still becalmed; no sign of starting. The wind is very light and southeasterly.

NO GO.
12:55 p. m.—The present indications are that the race will not come off to-day.

THE RACE OFF.
2:25 p. m.—The race is off for the day.

A TEXAS TERROR
Shoots Into a Party and is Lynched.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
BISBEE, Arizona, Sept. 12.—Late Thursday night a fight occurred in a gambling house here, in which an unknown Mexican, who was the aggressor, was worsted. He left the place and was not seen again until about 4:30 Friday morning, when he made his appearance with a repeating rifle and a belt of cartridges. When he arrived there were about forty men in the saloon and the Mexican, who was on the sidewalk, commenced shooting indiscriminately into the crowd. He fired fifteen shots, wounding four men, one fatally. He then fired into two other saloons and fled. The citizens started in search and about 9 o'clock he was found in a Mexican house in bed. After getting all the evidence necessary, a rope was produced and the assassin was taken up the canyon and hanged to a tree.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

The Printers' Strike.
Six printers struck on the Gazette this morning. Their places will be filled by new men. Two printers also struck this afternoon on THE SENTINEL, but this paper appears as usual. The trouble is about the exchange of telegraph. At an expense of nearly $200 a month

THE SENTINEL and Gazette receive the Associated Press dispatches and these telegrams are set up in this city and exchanged in preference to going to Chicago and Cincinnati to buy stereotyped, ready made telegraph, as do the other city papers. The SENTINEL and Gazette cannot issue metropolitan papers, hold the Associated Press franchise and compete with papers that buy their stereotyped telegraph matter for $12 a week. Hence THE SENTINEL and Gazette propose to control their own business as they pay for the luxury of giving their readers the news twelve hours in advance of other city papers. Besides every line of the news is set up in this city, more than any other paper here can claim.

Maud S. Trots.

In many localities Hood's Sarsaparilla is in such general demand that it is the recognized family medicine. People write that "the whole neighborhood is taking it," etc. Particularly is this true of Lowell, Mass., where it is made, and where more of Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold than of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier. It is the great remedy for debility, scrofula, dyspepsia, biliousness, or any disease caused by impure state or low condition of the blood. Give it a trial.

LONDON is a city of gardens. Even in the heart of the city proper you are constantly stumbling on verdant nooks bright with flowers. Comfortable benches abound, which are usually filled, more especially in such a summer as that with which England has this year been favored. Between 1 and 2 some of these haunts are filled with young business men, who, after luncheon, seek their repose with a cigarette and newspaper for a precious half hour. The ground around St. Paul's is now beautifully planted and bright with parterres.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 12.—About thirty girls employed by the American Rubber company, at East Cambridge, were affected yesterday by fumes of naphtha, which is used in composition of cement in the manufacture of rubber goods, the effect being to make them shriek, dance, laugh, etc. The performances of the girls under the influence of the fumes impelled the other girls in other rooms to act in a most extraordinary manner, and for a time the shop resembled an asylum for insane. Several doctors were called and a large number of operatives sent home in carriages.

Another Life Saved.
About two years ago, a prominent citizen of Chicago was told by his physicians that he must die. They said his system was so debilitated that there was nothing left to build on. He made up his mind to try a "new departure." He got some of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and took it according to directions. He began to improve at once. He kept up the treatment for one month, and is to-day a well man. He says the "Discovery" saved his life.

MISS CLEVELAND will return to the white house with a party of friends about the first of next month.

INDIANA'S crop of 140,000,000 bushels of corn will give her farmers a little pocket money even at present prices.

PROFESSOR BELL, the inventor of the telephone, is supposed to be secretly at work upon what is called the photophone, a contrivance to produce, over the wire, the image of the person speaking before the instrument. He may possibly succeed, but we would be loth to bank on it.

GREAT as Daniel Webster was, there must have been times when he felt that Mrs. Webster was the bigger person of the two. Some recent reminiscences of the Sage of Marshfield reveal the fact that it was not an uncommon thing for him to take his son aside and observe: "Fletcher, my son, let us go to Franklin to-morrow. We'll have a good time and leave the old lady at home."

The Bohemian oat swindle having proved such a bonanza, a fancy-wheat swindle has been started on the same plan for the benefit of the fall crop of suckers, and we are astonished to learn that farmers who should have intelligence enough to know that the thing can be nothing else than a swindle, and who should have honor enough to keep themselves aloof from everything that has the savor of rascality, are nevertheless lending their names to this claptrap.

As strong drink takes its way through the work, darkening the light on the hearthstone and in the household, breaking marriage bonds and snapping heart-strings, leading the boy to the gallows and the girl to the scarlet house, covering the grave with shame and the bridal hour with infamy, weakening the body, destroying the mind, and denning the soul, surely evil spirits grin and chuckle as they creep through the fires of infernal, and angels press, with tear-stained faces, nearer the throne.

MR. ROBERT SHAW, M. A., is in the city in the interest of his work, Creator and Cosmos, published by subscription by a St. Louis house. It is a work of historic, philosophic and religious interest. The object of the book is to harmonize science and revealed religion, and the author has upon this effort rare powers of analysis and many years of intense labor. It is an encyclopedia of science and religion and of the highest value as a work of reference. Several of our most cultured citizens have subscribed for the work, and men of thoughtful dispositions will find it of very great interest.

The Apaches have smoke signals by day and fire beacons at night, and systems of telegraphy understood only by themselves. The displacement and overturning of a few stones on a trail, or a bent or broken twig, is a note of warning, like the bugle-call to disciplined troops. The many crosses dotting the roadsides of Arizona and New Mexico mark the graves of murdered men. "The country seems one vast graveyard," writes Susan B. Wallace, "if we may judge by the frequency of these rude memorials." Trained by their mothers to theft and murder from childhood, they are inured to all extremes of heat and cold, hunger and thirst. They are cunning as the red fox, insatiable as tigers, and so ingenious in preparing for surprise that they will envelop themselves in a gray blanket and sprinkle it with earth, so as to resemble a granite boulder, to be passed within a few feet without suspicion. Again, they will cover themselves with fresh grass, and, lying motionless, appear as a natural portion of the field.

The German Government is having a shaft sunk at Schladebach for the purpose of discovering the rate at which heat increases from the circumference toward the center of the earth. The diamond drill has already penetrated our planet's bowels a mile and a half, the deepest boring in the world. Some people imagine this question will meet with a practical solution in the "hereafter," and are in no hurry to learn the intensity of internal fires.

A FEMALE office-seeker in Washington maneuvered her way into the White House with six small children in tow, and made a most pathetic plea for an appointment which would enable her to support her widowed brood. It was a neat bit of strategy, but it woefully miscarried when she was recognized by one of the attendants. She was never married at all, and the squad of juveniles had been borrowed for the occasion. The author of so ingenious a device almost deserved success.

Nothing Made in Vain.

We are told that nothing was made in vain; but what can be said of the fashionable girl of the period? Isn't she maidenly? Hood's Sarsaparilla is made in Lowell, Mass., where there are more bottles of it sold than of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier. And it is never taken in vain. It purifies the blood, strengthens the system, and gives new life and vigor to the entire body. 100 doses $1.

It is a long lane that has no turn. Rufus W. Baird, of Chillicothe, Ohio, suffered for six years with distressing kidney affection. He began to despair of a cure. Like a beacon star of hope Mischler's Herb Bitters flashed across the horizon of his life, and immediately he took a new existence. The trouble gradually grew less, the pain and discomfort which had afflicted him for so long disappeared, and he now writes that he feels thoroughly renewed, and is in the enjoyment of perfect health.

Eczema!

For the benefit of suffering humanity, and in heart felt gratitude at the wonderful result, I deem it only my duty to give this unqualified testimony in favor of Swift's Specific. My wife has been afflicted with hereditary Eczema or Salt Rheum from her infancy. It has increased in intensity with each succeeding spring, and being somewhat skilled in medicine myself, I tried every remedy I could think of for years. Sarsaparilla combined with every form of Potassium and hundreds of other remedies, lotions and alkali washes of every known kind, but they all gave only temporary relief. During the spring of 1884 her lower extremities became so inflamed and sore that she was obliged to keep them constantly covered with a cover of "Fulter's Earth," mixed wet and allowed to dry on. Among other things, she was afflicted with a periodical nervous headache, occurring regularly every seven days, sometimes followed by an intermittent fever for weeks at a time, so that her life became a burden to her.

This spring I determined she should take S. S. and follow strictly the directions in regard to dose, diet, etc. This was about seven weeks ago. After taking the first large bottle the disease seemed to increase; the burning, itching and inflammation became unbearable. She, however, persevered in the use of the medicine. After taking the second bottle the inflammation began to subside. After the third bottle the inflammation disappeared and sore spots dried up and turned white and scaly, and finally she brushed them off in an impenetrable white powder resembling pure salt. She is now taking the sixth bottle, three tablespoonful four times daily. Every appearance of the disease has gone, and her skin is becoming soft, white and smooth again; and what is more, her periodical headaches have disappeared and she is now, at 53 years of age, enjoying the only good health she has known for upwards of 40 years. No wonder she declares with emphasis that every bottle of S. S. is worth a thousand times its weight in gold.

Any further information concerning her case will be cheerfully given by herself at her residence, 15 Mullett street, or by her son, JOHN F. BRADLEY, 41 Griswold St., Detroit, Mich., May 16, 1885.

THE INFLUENCE OF A SINGLE LIFE.

Some Good Advice as to Friendship—A Pen Picture of Life in All Its Stages, Etc., Etc.

How, When, Where, Why?

You ask me how I gave my heart to Christ?

I do not know.

There came a yearning for Him in my soul

So long ago.

I found earth's flowerets would wither and die;

I went for something that could satisfy;

And then—and then somehow I seemed to dare

To lift my broken heart to Him in prayer.

I do not know—

I cannot tell you how,

I only know

He is my Saviour now.

You ask me when I gave my heart to Christ?

I cannot tell

The day, or just the hour, I do not now

Remember well.

It must have been when I was all alone

The light of His forgiving Spirit shone

Into my heart, so clouded o'er with sin;

I think—I think 'twas then I let Him in.

I do not know—

I cannot tell you when,

I only know

He is so dear since then.

You ask me where I gave my heart to Christ?

I cannot say.

That sacred place has faded from my sight

As yesterday.

Perhaps He thought it better I should not

Remember where. How I should love that spot!

I think I could not tear myself away,

For I should wait, forever, there to stay.

I do not know,

I cannot tell you where,

I only know

He came and blessed me there.

You ask me why I gave my heart to Christ?

I cannot reply.

It is a wondrous story: listen while

I tell you why

My heart was drawn, at length, to seek His face:

I was alone, I had no resting place;

I heard of how He loved me, with a love

Of depth so great—of height so far above

All human ken,

I longed such love to share,

And sought it then,

Upon my knees in prayer.

You ask me why I thought this loving Christ

Would heed my prayer?

I knew He died upon the cross for me—

I mailed him there!

I heard His dying cry, "Father, forgive!"

I saw Him drink Death's cup that I might live;

My head was bowed upon my breast in shame;

He called me, and in penitence I came;

He heard my prayer,

I cannot tell you how,

Nor where, nor where;

Why, I have told you now.

A Familiar Picture.

Hangs on many a wall, a picture of value to every home. It represents a boat being rowed with steady, vigorous, regular strokes by the sturdy,

faithful boatman, and in the boat are

people of all ages, from the playful

children in the prow pointing cheerily

to the other shore and eagerly anxious

to hasten the boatman onward in the journey. Then come the youthful lovers, back to boatman and the further shore, content to tarry in present bliss,

the longer the better; then stands the husband, the anxious face but many countenance of hope, gazing to the

other shore, and is himself being gazed

at by the loving wife, also content to abide in present love. In the stern of life's boat sits the aged pair; their labors are evidently done; and peacefully they are waiting for the other shore. Sweet pictures of human life from childhood's happy glee to old age's calm ripeness. Yet from the little child to the gray-haired old man

one essential onward movement is discerned—all are being rowed with steady oar-strokes to the other shore—

all are pilgrims and strangers, and are traveling home. None escape. Like those in the boat, who seem to be sitting in great quietness, they nevertheless are gliding noiselessly over the waters of time into eternity's vastness and life.—Rev. Mr. Kelsey.

One Life's Influence.

A little more than forty years ago

there came to London a young apprentice. He was poor and friendless; he had but a single endowment—Christian faith. He took lodgings in St. Paul's churchyard. His bedroom overlooked the vast wilderness of homes, with the dome of St. Paul's hanging like a crown of faith above it. He came to his room unknown, and there made a simple prayer of consecration alone. He felt the solitude of the city. Some eighty young men were employed in the same establishment as himself.

was felt throughout England; America took up the work; the islands of the Pacific; parts of Asia. Nearly three, thousand associations were represented or reported at the tenth annual conference held in Berlin. Now the movement is found to meet the needs of colleges, and more than two hundred associations have been formed in colleges and schools.

Some months ago, a gentleman walking along the Thames embankment saw the grand dome of St. Paul illumined by the twilight, and recalled to a friend the historic associations of the church. "And yet," said the friend, still gazing upon London's crown, "the influence of that church during the present century has, I think, been outweighed by the work of a single individual."

"Who?" "A mere boy," He added. "I mean the apprentice who began in his simple room in St. Paul's churchyard the work of Young Men's Christian Associations in the world."

"We cannot weigh influences, but the above remark is inspiring in its lesson to those who seek to be helpful to others, but whose only resource is—faith.—Youth's Companion.

"My wife," said an old gentleman in the hotel reading-room, "bought her last dress twenty years ago."

"Been an invalid since then?" inquired a bald-headed man.

"No."

"Been making it over ever since?" inquired another listener.

"No, never made it over."

"Must have been made out of good cloth."

He landed in Boston, where he changed his name from Charlotsky Moro to Phillips. He afterwards bought large tracts of land in Texas, and a home in Galveston. He owned the Lafayette Hotel, in Philadelphia, the Columbia Hotel, Lebanon Springs, a copper mine in Michigan, and a phosphate mine in Canada. He was about 75 years of age.

Sewer gas dodges past imperfect traps, confusing the sanitary engineer, baffling the doctor, taking possession of your house and killing you or making you an invalid. If you are dead, that closes the business. If you are crippled or poisoned Brown's Iron Bitters can do wonders for you. Dodge the artful dodger by enriching your blood, invigorating your system and enjoying good health. ## WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

The New York board of health estimates that 20,000 lives have been destroyed by the explosive qualities of petroleum. If every household would adopt the White Seal oil for family use, none of these unfortunate accidents would occur.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL has none of the defects usually found in common oils. It cannot be exploded, does not char the wick, will not smoke, emits no offensive odor, and prevents the breaking of chimneys.

It is a rich oil for illuminating purposes. It is as light in color as pure spring water. It gives a strong steady light, and burns much longer than common oils.

If the White Seal Burning Oil is not sold in your vicinity, send your order direct to us for a barrel or a case containing two neat five gallon cans.

GRAY as Daniel Webster was, there must have been times when he felt that Ezra Webster was the bigger person of the two. Some recent reminiscences of the Sage of Marshfield reveal the fact that it was not an uncommon thing for him to take his son aside and observe: "Fletcher, my son, let us go to Franklin tomorrow. We'll have a good time and leave the old lady at home."

THE Bohemian cat swindle having proved such a bonanza, a fancy-sweat swindle has been started on the same plan for the benefit of the fall crop of rascals, and we are astonished to learn that farmers who should have intelligence enough to know that the thing can be nothing else than a swindle, and who should have honor enough to keep themselves aloof from everything that has the savors of mendacity, are nevertheless lending their names to this clapnet.

As strong drink takes its way through the work, darkening the light on the hearthstone and in the household, breaking marriage bonds and snapping heart-strings, leading the boy to the gallows and the girl to the scarlet house, covering the grave with shame and the bridal hour with infamy, weakening the body, destroying the mind, and damning the soul, surely evil spirits grin and chuckle as they creep through the first infernal, and angelic press, with tear-stained faces, nearer the throne.

The object of the book is to harmonize science and revealed religion, and the author has spent upon this effort rare powers of analysis and many years of intense labor. It is an encyclopedia of science and religion and of the highest value as a work of reference. THE German Government is having a shaft sunk at Schladebach for the purpose of discovering the rate at which heat increases from the circumference toward the center of the earth. The diamond drill has already penetrated our planet's bowels a mile and a half, the deepest boring in the world. Some people imagine this question will meet with a practical solution in the "hereafter," and are in no hurry to learn the intensity of internal fires.

A FEMALE office-seeker in Washington maneuvered her way into the White House with six small children in tow, and made a most pathetic plea for an appointment which would enable her to support her widowed brood. It was a neat bit of strategy, but it woefully miscarried when she was recognized by one of the attendants. She was never married at all, and the signal of juvenility had been borrowed for the occasion. The author of so ingenious a device almost deserved success.

Eczema!

For the benefit of suffering humanity, and in heartfelt gratitude to the wonderful results it has produced in cases of Eczema, I have prepared this medicine. My wife has been afflicted with hereditary Eczema of the hands and feet for many years. I have increased in intensity with each summer spring, and being somewhat skilled in medicine myself, I tried every remedy I could think of for years. Sarsaparilla combined with scaly food, and the hands and feet of my wife were covered with a thick crust of scales, and she was obliged to keep them constantly coated with a cover of "Ely's Balm," which she was allowed to dry on. Among other things, she was afflicted with a periodical nervous headache, occurring regularly every seven days, sometimes followed by an intermittent fever for weeks at a time, so that her life became a burden to her.

This spring I determined she should take S. S. S. and follow strictly the directions in regard to diet, etc. This was about seven weeks ago. After taking the first large bottle the disease seemed to increase; the burning, itching and inflammation became unbearable. But, however, persevered in the use of the medicine. After taking the second bottle the inflammation began to subside. After the third bottle the inflammation disappeared and some spots dried up and turned white and scaly, and finally the hands and feet were again becoming soft, white and smooth again, and what is more, her periodical headaches have disappeared, and she is now, at 55 years of age, enjoying the only good health she has known for upwards of 40 years. No wonder she declares with emphasis that every bottle of S. S. S. is worth a thousand times its weight in gold.

Any further information concerning her case will be cheerfully given by her if at her residence, 15 Mullett street, or by me.

THE INFLUENCE OF A SINGLE LIFE.

Some Good Advice as to Friendship—A Pen Picture of Life in All Its Stages, Etc., Etc.

How, When, Where, Why?

You ask me how I gave my heart to Christ?

I do not know.

There came a yearning for Him in my soul

So long ago.

I found earth's flowers would wither and die;

I sought for something that could satisfy;

And then—and then—somehow I seemed to dare

To lift my broken heart to Him in prayer.

I do not know.

I cannot tell you how,

I only know

He is my Saviour now.

You ask me when I gave my heart to Christ?

I cannot tell.

The day, or just the hour, I do not now

Remember well.

It must have been when I was all alone

The light of His forgiving Spirit shone

Into my heart, so shadowed over with sin;

I think—I think 'twas then I let Him in.

I do not know.

I cannot tell you when,

I only know

He is so dear since then.

You ask me where I gave my heart to Christ?

I cannot say.

That sacred place has faded from my sight

As yesterday.

Perhaps He thought it better I should not

Remember where. How I should love that spot!

I think I could not bear myself away,

For I should want, forever, there to stay.

I do not know.

I cannot tell you where,

I only know

He came and blessed me there.

You ask me why I gave my heart to Christ?

I cannot say.

It is a wonderful story, I believe while

I tell you why.

My heart was drawn, at length, to seek His face;

I was alone, I had no resting place;

I had of low He loved me, with a love

Of depth and greatness of light so far above

All human ken.

I sought such love to share,

And sought it then,

Upon my knees in prayer.

You ask me why I thought this loving Christ

Would heed my prayer?

I know He heard upon the cross for me—

I cannot tell you where!

I heard His living cry, "Father, forgive!"

I saw His crucifixion's cup that I might live;

My heart was bowed upon my breast in shame;

He called me, and in penitence I came;

He heard my prayer.

I cannot tell you how,

When, where, how where;

Why, I have told you now.

ous, regular strokes by the sturdy,

faithful boatman, and in the boat are

people of all ages, from the playful

children in the prow pointing cheerily

to the other shore and eagerly anxious

to hasten the boatman onward in the

the longer the better; then stands the husband, the anxious face but manly

countenance of hope, gazing to the

other shore, and is himself being gazed

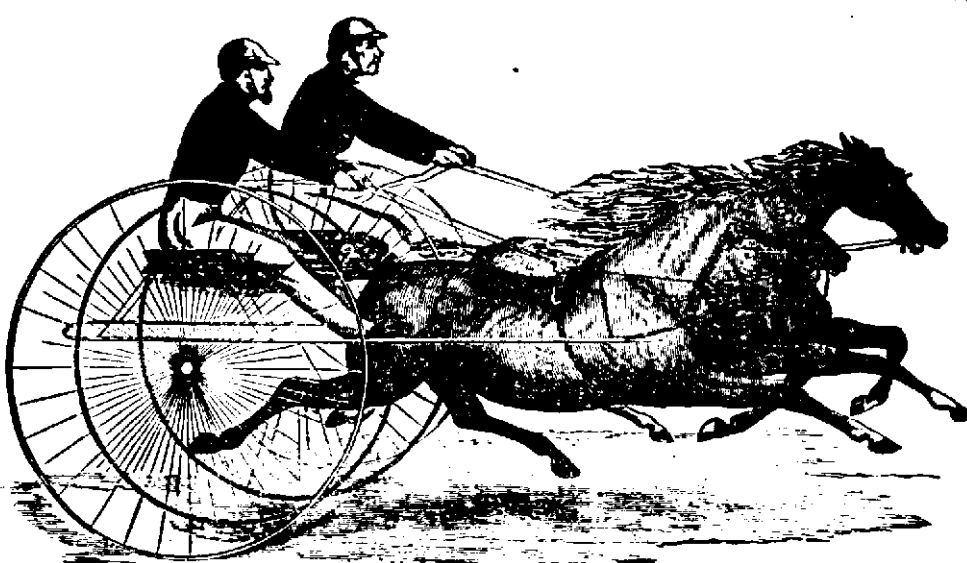

at by the loving wife, also content to

abide in present love. In the stern of

life's boat sits the aged pair; their

laiders are evidently done; and peace-

was felt throughout England; America took up the work; the islands of the Pacific; parts of Asia. Nearly three thousand associations were represented or reported at the tenth annual conference held in Berlin. Now the movement is found to meet the needs of colleges, and more than two hundred associations have been formed in colleges and schools.

Some months ago, a gentleman walking along the Thames embankment saw the grand dome of St. Paul illuminated by the twilight, and recalled to a friend the historic associations of the church.

"And yet," said the friend, still gazing upon London's crown, "the influence of that church during the present century has, I think, been outweighed by the work of a single individual."

"Who?"

"A mere boy," he added. "I mean the apprentice who began in his simple room in St. Paul's churchyard the work of Young Men's Christian Associations in the world."

"We cannot weigh influences, but the above remark is inspiring in its lesson to those who seek to be helpful to others, but whose only resource is faith.—Fourth's Companion.

HER LIST DRESS. "My wife," said an old gentleman in the hotel reading-room, "bought her last dress twenty years ago."

"Been an invalid since then?" inquired a bald-headed man.

"No."

"Been making it over ever since?" inquired another listener.

"No, never made it over."

"Must have been made out of good cloth."

"Of course it was. Do I look like a man who would buy a cheap dress to bury my wife in?" Courier-Journal.
